The CharityBox Event manager

We've been there. Managing an event is rough and everything that can go wrong will. Soliciting attendees with on-line sign up can really lighten your load.

- You are paid right away. Rather than track down attendees who have promised to pay, you know your event was financially successful immediately.
- You can send the invitation multiple times for no additional cost. We will send your event invitation as many times as you want.
- Event sign up webpage. We develop a page and put it up on the internet for you.
- Attendees get a ticket. No more calls asking "do I get a ticket". You can say "yes you do". Ticket comes up on the screen for attendee to print and bring to event.
- Tax letter. You can add whatever text you need for tax purposes. Some events are fully deductible – others aren't. Attendees love being able to print this.
- Personal Service. We will do everything for you. Just send us a copy of your invitation, give us your dates, and we'll do the rest.
